COUPLES COUNSELING

I. STANDARDIZED COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed as a seminar for students in the clinical concentration and will cover intervention approaches used in couples therapy. It will be taught from a systems perspective and will include an overview of models and methods drawn from evidence based research. The primary focus of this course will be to blend theory and application. This course will require the student to participate in both theory based and experiential learning and will incorporate simulations and case presentations to elucidate the approaches discussed.

II. STANDARDIZED COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Demonstrate the ability to compare and contrast theory-based interventions which incorporate intrapsychic and interpersonal theory including an understanding of emotions, physiology and communication.
2. Demonstrate the ability to explore and resolve social work values and ethical dilemmas in selecting and implementing interventions for couples.
3. Understand the importance of awareness of self as a parallel process to the application of interventions with couples.
4. Identify the implications of race, culture, gender, sexual orientation, substance abuse and domestic violence on assessment and intervention with couples.
5. Understand and integrate theory using empirical, evidence-based best practice research.
6. Demonstrate the ability to review the elements of a treatment approach assess the effectiveness and elicit clinical input that heightens awareness and examines interventions in light of cultural perspective and desired outcome.

III. TEACHING METHODS

This course will include a variety of teaching methodologies designed to achieve the beginning mastery of theoretically-grounded advanced practice skill competencies with couples. Learning activities will include reading, writing, discussion, lectures, videos, simulations and experiential exercises. Students will video-tape simulations as a tool for learning assessment and intervention skills. Students will present a case and solicit feedback from other students in order to identify strategies to improve their effectiveness in intervening with couples. Students will also be encouraged to develop insights into "the use of self" through observations and self reflection. Simulations will be monitored to facilitate the assessment of skill competencies.

V. Course Requirements

The grade for the course will be based on the student's ability to demonstrate (a) knowledge and methods from the major models couples counseling and (b) effective interventions for resolving couples issues. Grading will be based primarily on total points accrued from each of the four major assignments. However, professional skills, which are embodied in class attendance, punctuality participation, promptness in completing assignments and as well as clear and concise writing skills, will be factored into the final grade. Points listed on assignment descriptions are maximum points given for excellence in detail, relevance and thoroughness.

Written assignments should be typed and double spaced. Single space and/or fonts under 12 pt. will incur a penalty (one point per page) as will extra pages. The preferred method is to turn in the paper in a hardcopy, but papers may be emailed to your instructor when necessary. Do not use Canvas to send attachments. APA (6th Ed) citation style must be used for referenced information.

1. History and Assessment (not to exceed 5 pages)

Students will be divided into groups of three (with an added group of two or four depending on the class size) and will create history and background for a "simulation couple" they will play this semester. To prepare for these simulations students will construct an assessment package.

The narrative will include:

- A description of the presenting problem,
- The strengths and challenges of the relationship,
- One or two issues over which the couple is gridlocked (Atkinson, Chapter 5, Gottman Chapter 4)
- Summary of Gottman's Seven Questions as they relate to your couple (Gottman Chapter 4)
- A relationship history using the Oral History Interview (Gottman, 398-99).
- Brief summary of the Meta-Emotion Interview (Gottman, 402).
- Brief family history

The interviews need to be written as a summary (without questions or dialogue).

- Include a brief assessment of the couple's function with a plan of treatment (goals).

Each student's work will be graded separately.

One copy should be turned in (hard copy) to the professor.

20 points maximum

Going over the page limit, single spacing will be penalized.

2. Couple Therapy Simulation and Analysis

(a) Students will tape a DVD of three role plays. Each simulation (role play) will be limited to 15 minutes duration. Each student will alternate playing members of the couple created in section 1 and therapist (so that each student has an opportunity to play the therapist).

Each therapist will demonstrate a variety of different techniques discussed in class and covered by the readings, but should not be limited to these. Students are encouraged to use different techniques from those of their group mates.

(b) Students will need to schedule a room in the LRC to tape simulations. (The LRC rooms must be scheduled early in the semester to avoid schedule conflicts. Also you must bring your own DVD-R disk. Speak with the staff about which type to purchase. You must be sure that it can be played back on a DVD player or Blue Ray Player. If you need to make copies of your DVD for each student to view, the LRC desk has a machine that will make duplicates. Or you may try <https://handbrake.fr> and make a sharable MP4 for your group to use via a link in email.)

(c) Analysis – After each session, students will view and critique the video using the critique guide provided on Canvas in the assignments section. Group members may work on this part of the assignment together but each student must turn in his/her own analysis. Each student's work will be graded separately. There are 3 analyses: one for the student playing the therapist and two for viewing your group members' simulations. There are different requirements for the analyses; Therefore please review the rubrics before taping your simulations. (7 page maximum for all three.)

30 point maximum

3. Case Consult

Each group will schedule a time for a case consult which will be delivered after the completion of their second simulation. The presentation should include:

- background summary,
- presenting problem,
- treatment approach and interventions,
- treatment challenge – a question about treating this couple that could improve your effectiveness as a therapist.

At the end of the presentation the presenters will ask questions that illicit input regarding the treatment challenge or dilemma and request for input from the rest of the class. The presenters will facilitate a class discussion.

The entire presentation should take approximately 30 minutes.

20 points maximum

4. Diversity Review and Discussion

Students will choose a social identity, community or population they would like to explore regarding intimate partnerships. While individuals normally identify with a variety of populations, for this assignment we will be putting a primary focus on only one aspect of an identity. Such as, but not limited to, the following: arranged marriage, LGBT relationships, military couples, cross culture couples, interfaith marriages, polyamory relationships, unmarried couples, remarried couples, African American, Latino, Asian American / other ethnic couples.

This assignment has two parts:

1) Gather information from online sources, journal articles, textbooks, magazines, newspapers, educational slides and personal interviews, when possible. Provide at least three such sources. Identify strengths, needs, values, biases, stereotypes, traditions and attitudes would need to be considered in working with this population. If possible, identify one or two couple therapy approaches that have been shown to be effective with this population. If 'evidence based' approaches are not found, identify approaches that could be classified 'considerations.' Prepare a bibliography.

Write a two to three page summary to include (a) a critical discussion of the findings themselves, (how you gathered information and how you assess the material you studied); (b) a thoughtful discussion of therapeutic approaches you suggest based on the information gathered with consideration to the unique characteristics of this population (including questions raised by using these approaches with this population); and (c) a review of your own biases and how they may have shifted or remained the same during this assignment.

The goal of this assignment is to raise awareness and encourage thoughtful discussion and cannot be comprehensive. It is in no way is meant to imply homogeneity within a population and in fact may actually provide examples of a vast array of differing perspectives

2) Prepare a presentation for the class with the other students who chose this population. Plan to review your findings and then lead a class discussion including any theories you have formulated about the effectiveness of treating this population in couples counseling. Anticipate that the presentations and discussion will take approximately 20 - 25 minutes.

Grading will take into consideration the quality & variety of your sources (For example if you choose to interview someone; the length of time spent, quality of questions asked, how you chose the person/people. If you chose readings, quality of the source, explanation of how you chose the article and the quality of the articles chosen.) and the quality of your discussion.

30 points total maximum (20 for the paper and 10 for the class discussion). You will be graded separately on your papers and as a group in the class discussion.

Going over the page limit, single spacing will be penalized.

VI. Course Grading Criteria

| Graduate students must earn a minimum grade of C in the course for credit toward graduation; also, graduate students must maintain an overall 3.0 average. | | |

VII. Class Policies

Assignments:

Late assignments will not be accepted without penalty. The penalty will be assessed by subtracting 5 points per day. Exceptions will be made only in the case of an extreme emergency and with the permission of the instructor to be given 24 hours prior to the due date.

Attendance:

Regular and punctual class attendance and class participation is expected. Please notify the professor in advance of any anticipated absence. Missing more than one class or leaving class early without prior approval and a valid excuse (such as a medical appointment with documentation) is cause for reduction in the final grade (generally 3 points per unexcused absence).

Laptops, cell phones, text messaging

The use of laptops, cell phones, and text messaging during class is prohibited. This prohibition includes I-pads and all other electronic devices.

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS HONOR CODE. The core values of The University of Texas at Austin are learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility.

Each member of the university is expected to uphold these values through integrity, honesty, trust, fairness, and respect toward peers and community.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND CIVILITY IN THE CLASSROOM. The professor expects students to act as professionals in class. This means students should arrive on time for class, be prepared to participate in the class discussion, and show respect for one another's opinions. A course brings together a group of diverse individuals with various backgrounds. Students are influenced and shaped by such factors as ethnicity, gender, sex, physical abilities, religious and political beliefs, national origins, and sexual orientations, among others. We expect to learn from each other in an atmosphere of positive engagement and mutual respect. Social Work also deals with complex and controversial issues. These issues may be challenging and uncomfortable, and it would be impossible to offer a substantive classroom experience that did not include potentially difficult conversations relating to challenging issues. In this environment we will be exposed to diverse ideas and opinions, and sometimes we will not agree with the ideas expressed by others. Nevertheless, the professor requires that students engage one another with civility, respect, and professionalism.

UNANTICIPATED DISTRESS. Students may experience unexpected and/or distressing reactions to course readings, videos, conversations, and assignments. If so, students are encouraged to inform the professor. The professor can be responsive and supportive regarding students' participation in course assignments and activities, but students are responsible for communicating clearly what kind of support is desired. If counseling is needed, students may contact a service provider of their choosing, including the UT Counseling Center at 512-471-3515 or online at: <https://cmhc.utexas.edu/>

POLICY ON SOCIAL MEDIA AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION. Public social networks are not private. Even when open only to approved or invited members, users cannot be certain that privacy will exist among the general membership of sites. If social work students choose to participate in such forums, please assume that anything posted can be seen, read, and critiqued. What is said, posted, linked to, commented on, uploaded, subscribed to, etc., can be accessed and archived, posing potential harm to professional reputations and prospective careers.

Social work students who use social media (i.e. Facebook, Twitter, etc.) and other forms of electronic communication (i.e. blogs, etc.) must be mindful of how their communication may be perceived by clients, colleagues, faculty, and others. Social work students are expected to make every effort to minimize material which could be considered inappropriate for a professional social worker in training. Because of this, social work students are advised to manage security settings at their most private levels and avoid posting information/photos or using any language that could jeopardize their professional image.

Students are asked to consider the amount of personal information posted on these sites and are obliged to block any client access to involvement in the students' social networks. Client material should not be referred to in any form of electronic media, including any information that might lead to the identification of a client or compromise client confidentiality in any way. Additionally, students must critically evaluate any material that is posted regarding community agencies and professional relationships, as certain material could violate the standards set by the School of Social Work, the Texas Code of Conduct for Social Workers, and/or the NASW Code of Ethics.

Social work students should consider that they will be representing professional social work practice as well as The University of Texas at Austin School of Social Work program while in the classroom, the university community, and the broader area communities.

POLICY ON SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY. Students who violate University rules on scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since such dishonesty harms the individual, all students, and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. For further information, the student may refer to the Web Site of the Student Judicial Services, Office of the Dean of Students (<http://deanofstudents.utexas.edu/sjs/>).

USE OF COURSE MATERIALS. The materials used in this course, including, but not limited to exams, quizzes, and homework assignments, are copyright protected works. Any unauthorized duplication of the course materials is a violation of federal law and may result in disciplinary action being taken against the student. Additionally, the sharing of course materials without the specific, express approval of the professor may be a violation of the University's Student Honor Code and an act of academic dishonesty, which could result in further disciplinary action. This sharing includes, among other things, uploading class materials to websites for the purpose of distributing those materials to other current or future students.

DOCUMENTED DISABILITY STATEMENT. Any student who requires special accommodations must obtain a letter that documents the disability from the Services for Students with Disabilities area of the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement (471- 6259 voice or 471-4641 TTY for users who are deaf or hard of hearing). A student should present the letter to the professor at the beginning of the semester so that needed accommodations can be discussed and followed. The student should remind the professor of any testing accommodations no later than five business days before an exam. For more information, visit: <http://diversity.utexas.edu/disability/>

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS. By UT Austin policy, students must notify the professor of a pending absence at least fourteen days prior to the date of observance of a religious holy day. If the student must miss a class, examination, work assignment, or project in order to observe a religious holy day, the professor will give the student an opportunity to complete the missed work within a reasonable time after the absence.

TITLE IX REPORTING. In accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University of Texas at Austin is committed to maintaining a learning environment that is free from discriminatory conduct based on gender. Faculty, instructors, staff, and/or teaching assistants in their supervisory roles are mandated reporters of incidents of sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence, or sexual misconduct. Students who report such incidents will be informed of University resources. Incidents will be reported to the University's Title IX Coordinator and/or the Title IX Deputy for the SSW, Professor Tanya Voss. Students, faculty and staff may contact Professor Voss to report incidents or to obtain information. Further information, including student resources related to Title IX, may also be found at <http://socialwork.utexas.edu/dl/files/academic-programs/other/grg-sexualharassment.pdf>.

CAMPUS CARRY POLICY. The University's policy on concealed fire arms may be found here: <https://campuscarry.utexas.edu>. You also may find this information by accessing the Quick Links menu on the School's website.

CLASSROOM CONFIDENTIALITY. Information shared in class about agencies, clients, and personal matters is considered confidential per the NASW Code of Ethics on educational supervision and is protected by regulations of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) as well. As such, sharing this information with individuals outside of the educational context is not permitted. Violations of confidentiality could result in actions taken according to the policies and procedure for review of academic performance located in sections 3.0, 3.1, and 3.2 of the Standards for Social Work Education.

USE OF E-MAIL FOR OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO STUDENTS. Email is recognized as an official mode of university correspondence; therefore, students are responsible for reading their email for university and course-related information and announcements. Students are responsible for keeping the university informed about a change of e-mail address. Students should check their e-mail regularly and frequently—daily, but at minimum twice a week—to stay current with university-related communications, some of which may be time-sensitive. Students can find UT Austin's policies and instructions for updating their e-mail address at <http://www.utexas.edu/its/policies/emailnotify.php>.

SAFETY. As part of professional social work education, students may have assignments that involve working in agency settings and/or the community. As such, these assignments may present some risks. Sound choices and caution may lower risks inherent to the profession. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and adhere to policies and practices related to agency and/or community safety. Students should notify the professor regarding any safety concerns.

BEHAVIOR CONCERNS ADVICE LINE (BCAL). If students are worried about someone who is acting differently, they may use the Behavior Concerns Advice Line to discuss by phone their concerns about another individual's behavior. This service is provided through a partnership between the Office of the Dean of Students, the Counseling and Mental Health Center (CMHC), the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), and The University of Texas Police Department (UTPD). Call 512-232-5050 or visit <http://www.utexas.edu/safety/bcal>.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION POLICY. Occupants of buildings on the UT Austin campus are required to evacuate and assemble outside when a fire alarm is activated or an announcement is made. Please be aware of the following policies regarding evacuation:

- Familiarize yourself with all exit doors in the classroom and the building. Remember that the nearest exit door may not be the one you used when entering the building.
- If you require assistance to evacuate, inform the professor in writing during the first week of class.
- In the event of an evacuation, follow the professor's instructions.
- Do not re-enter a building unless you are given instructions by the Austin Fire Department, the UT Austin Police Department, or the Fire Prevention Services office.

Feedback

During this course the students are encouraged to provide feedback on their learning in informal as well as formal ways, including through anonymous surveys about how the professor's teaching strategies are helping or hindering student learning. It is very important to insure that together the professor and students can create an environment effective for teaching and learning.
