FOUNDATIONS OF SOCIAL JUSTICE:
VALUES, DIVERSITY, POWER & OPPRESSION

I. Standardized Course Description

This course is based on the following assumptions: 1.) membership in a population-at-risk group (e.g., people of color, women, gay and lesbian persons) significantly influences an individual's life experiences, world view, and increases risk factors for exposure to discrimination, economic deprivation and oppression; 2) professional social work ethics and values demand culturally competent practices; 3) it is necessary for students to learn to apply social justice approaches to influence assessment, planning, access to resources, intervention, and research; and 4) professionals and programs have strategies to critically analyze distributive justice, human and civil rights, and global interconnections of oppression. There is an emphasis in this course on the impact of discrimination and oppression by individuals and society on people of culturally diverse backgrounds and orientations.

II. Standardized Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course the student will be able to:

1. Critique and apply culturally competent and social justice approaches to influence assessment, planning, access of resources, intervention, and research (PB 18,19, and 20);
2. Demonstrate familiarity with the history and heritage of population-at-risk groups, including women and culturally diverse populations, globally as well as those prevalent in the southwestern region of the United States (PB 14, 16, and 17);
3. Understand the social construction of race and ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation (PB 14);
4. Examine the personal and professional use of self in ethical, culturally competent, and socially just social work practices (PB 15) and;
5. Assess the impact of discrimination (e.g. racism, sexism, homophobia), and oppression on public policy, institutional structure, service delivery, and one's own role in promoting social and economic justice (PB 18, 19, and 20).

The School of Social Work has been continuously accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE) since 1952. In order to maintain our accreditation status, we engage in ongoing curriculum assessment to demonstrate compliance with CSWE's Education Policies and Accreditation Standards (EPAS). Several required courses in our curriculum are part of this ongoing assessment, including this course. Below is a list of the specific Educational Policies (EP) and Practice Behaviors (PB) that are assessed in this course. The complete EPAS can be optioned from your Student Handbook.

III. Teaching Methods

A variety of teaching methods will be utilized, including: lectures, class discussions, experiential exercises, case examples, video presentations, and guest speakers. Details are included in the attached assignment descriptions.

The content of this course has the potential to be emotionally-charged. Guidelines will be established collaboratively by students and the instructor to create a respectful, safe and challenging learning environment.

IV. Required Readings

Fadiman, Anne. (1997). The Spirit Catches You and You Fall Down: A Hmong Child, Her American Doctors and the Collision of Two Cultures. New York, NY. Farrar Straus & Giroux.

Johnson, A.G. (2006). Privilege, power and difference 2nd Edition. New York, NY: McGraw-Gill.

Additional readings listed on the syllabus will be found in a course packet that can be purchased at Speedway Copy Center.(715 West 23rd Street- ground floor of University Towers dormitory).

Other readings and handouts may be added during the semester and will be made available either in class or through Blackboard.

V. Course Requirements

Students will be evaluated on the following required assignments, as well as in-class participation and contribution.

1. Attendance and Participation (10% of grade)

Students are expected to attend all classes, participate meaningfully in class discussion and exercises, and call upon life experiences and course readings for contributions. The ten points for this requirement include attendance (5 total points) and in-class participation (5 total points). Students will be allowed one (1) absence without excuse or loss of points. Students are to notify the instructor in advance when they are going to be absent.

It is important for social workers to be aware of group dynamics including peer groups in which they participate. A portion of the grade for this course will depend on your level of participation and contribution. For some, this means learning to speak up, add to discussions and ask questions. For others, it means taking a step back and allowing others the space to contribute.

Criteria for Awarding Attendance and Punctuality Points:

0-1 absence = 5 pts

2 absences = 3 pts

3 absences = 1 pt

4 or more absences = 0 pts

5 or more absences puts the student in jeopardy of not passing this course.

Note: Establishing a pattern of late arrivals or early departures will cause attendance points to be lowered.

Criteria for Awarding In-Class Participation/Contributions:

Ongoing, Active Participation = 5 pts

Some Participation = 3 pts

Limited Participation = 1 pt

No Participation = 0 pts

2. Beginning Self Reflective Paper (10% of grade) (Due Week 4)

This first paper will serve as a starting point to analyze one's personal position in relation to social work practice. Further details will be handed out a week before it is due. This paper will be 3-4 pages and must incorporate at least two of the class readings.

3. Midterm quiz (10% of grade) (Week 6)

In-class quizzes or mini-exams will be comprised mainly of short answer questions about information learned through readings, class lectures, and assignments.

4. Group Presentation (20% of grade) (Week 8 or 9 depending on group)

For this presentation, students will be placed in small groups and assigned a topic to research and present to the class. Students will need to explore the depths of challenges that the social justice topic presents and develop a potential solution to said inequity.

- a) Students will provide a short history and description of the topic.
- b) Students will analyze the impact of discrimination, public policy, institutional structures and/or service delivery factors/approaches as they affect the population-at-risk.
- c) Students will advocate for particular service delivery approaches and avenues for social change, as informed by their research.
- d) Students must present concise, effective arguments for their position.

A reference page must be included and the powerpoint should be emailed to the instructor by the time of the presentation. Additional details will be provided in class.

5. Social Issue Paper (25% of grade) (Due Week 11)

As advocates and agents for social change, social workers must be able to identify and effectively argue (with support of evidence) their positions on controversial issues. The purpose of this assignment is to:

- a. reflect, critically evaluate, and respond to human rights and social justice issues presented
- b. demonstrate familiarity with diverse at-risk populations
- c. examine the personal and professional use of self in ethical, culturally competent, and socially just social work practices.

Students will analyze issues discussed in the The Spirit Catches You and You Fall Down, answering a set of questions that will be distributed in class.

Papers should be 7-9 pages in length with 12 point double-spaced font. APA format must be used. At least eight sources must be used.

6. Final mini-exams (15% of grade) (Week 15)

In-class quizzes or mini-exams will be comprised mainly of short answer questions about information learned through readings, class lectures, and assignments.

7. Final Self Reflective Paper (10% of grade) (Due Week 15)

This paper will serve to identify areas of growth within cultural humility as well as identify future areas to focus on. Further details will be handed out at the previous class session before it is due. This paper will be 3-4 pages and must incorporate at least three of the class readings.

Assignment Policy

NOTE: It is important for social work professionals to be punctual in attendance and in meeting deadlines. Therefore, class attendance is expected, as is handing in assignments on time. Please take note of the following:

- Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the scheduled day and will be considered late if turned in more than 15 minutes after the beginning of the class period.
- Students will lose two points per calendar day for late assignments. Any adjustments in assignment due dates and/or examination dates MUST be discussed with the instructor at least 24 hours PRIOR to the regularly scheduled date.
- All written assignments must be typed, double-spaced with 12 point font, and follow appropriate guidelines for APA format.

Professional Conduct in Class

The instructor expects students to act like professionals in class. This means students should arrive on time for class, be prepared to participate in the class discussion, and show respect for one another's opinions. We will not, nor should we, always agree with one another. In this environment we should be exposed to diverse ideas and opinions, and sometime we will not agree with the ideas expressed by others. However, the instructor does require that students engage one another with respect and professionalism.

VII. Class Policies

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS HONOR CODE. The core values of The University of Texas at Austin are learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility. Each member of the university is expected to uphold these values through integrity, honesty, trust, fairness, and respect toward peers and community.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT IN CLASS. The professor expects students to act as professionals in class. This means students should arrive on time for class, be prepared to participate in the class discussion, and show respect for one another's opinions. We will not, nor should we, always agree with one another. In this environment we should be exposed to diverse ideas and opinions, and sometime we will not agree with the ideas expressed by others. However, the professor does require that students engage one another with respect and professionalism.

POLICY ON SOCIAL MEDIA AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION. Public social networks are not private. Even when open only to approved or invited members, users cannot be certain that privacy will exist among the general membership of sites. If social work students choose to participate in such forums, please assume that anything posted can be seen, read, and critiqued. What is said, posted, linked to, commented on, uploaded, subscribed to, etc., can be accessed and archived, posing potential harm to professional reputations and prospective careers.

Social work students who use social media (i.e. Facebook, Twitter, etc.) and other forms of electronic communication (i.e. blogs, etc.) must be mindful of how their communication may be perceived by clients, colleagues, faculty, and others. Social work students are expected to make every effort to minimize material which could be considered inappropriate for a professional social worker in training. Because of this, social work students are advised to manage security settings at their most private levels and avoid posting information/photos or using any language that could jeopardize their professional image. Students are asked to consider the amount of personal information posted on these sites and are obliged to block any client access to involvement in the students' social networks. Client material should not be referred to in any form of electronic media, including any information that might lead to the identification of a client or compromise client confidentiality in any way. Additionally, students must critically evaluate any material that is posted regarding community agencies and professional relationships, as certain material could violate the standards set by the School of Social Work, the Texas Code of Conduct for Social Workers, and/or the NASW Code of Ethics.

Social work students should consider that they will be representing professional social work practice as well as the University of Texas at Austin School of Social Work program while in the classroom, the university community, and the broader area communities.

POLICY ON SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY. Students who violate University rules on scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since such dishonesty harms the individual, all students, and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. For further information, the student may refer to the Web Site of the Student Judicial Services, Office of the Dean of Students (<http://deanofstudents.utexas.edu/sjs/>).

DOCUMENTED DISABILITY STATEMENT. Any student who requires special accommodations must obtain a letter that documents the disability from the Services for Students with Disabilities area of the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement (471- 6259 voice or 471-4641 TTY for users who are deaf or hard of hearing). Present the letter to the professor at the beginning of the semester so that needed accommodations can be discussed. The student should remind the professor of any testing accommodations no later than five business days before an exam. For more information, visit <http://www.utexas.edu/diversity/ddce/ssd/>.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS. By UT Austin policy, students must notify the professor of a pending absence at least fourteen days prior to the date of observance of a religious holy day. If the student must miss a class, an examination, a work assignment, or a project in order to observe a religious holy day, the professor will give the student an opportunity to complete the missed work within a reasonable time after the absence.

USE OF E-MAIL FOR OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO STUDENTS. Email is recognized as an official mode of university correspondence; therefore, students are responsible for reading their email for university and course-related information and announcements. Students are responsible to keep the university informed about changes to their e-mail address. Students should check their e-mail regularly and frequently—daily, but at minimum twice a week—to stay current with university-related communications, some of which may be time- sensitive. Students can find UT Austin’s policies and instructions for updating their e-mail address at <http://www.utexas.edu/its/policies/emailnotify.php>.

SAFETY. As part of professional social work education, students may have assignments that involve working in agency settings and/or the community. As such, these assignments may present some risks. Sound choices and caution may lower risks inherent to the profession. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and adhere to policies and practices related to agency and/or community safety. Students should notify the professor regarding any safety concerns.

BEHAVIOR CONCERNS ADVICE LINE (BCAL). If students are worried about someone who is acting differently, they may use the Behavior Concerns Advice Line to discuss by phone their concerns about another individual’s behavior. This service is provided through a partnership among the Office of the Dean of Students, the Counseling and Mental Health Center (CMHC), the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), and The University of Texas Police Department (UTPD). Call 512-232-5050 or visit <http://www.utexas.edu/safety/bcal>.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION POLICY. Occupants of buildings on the UT Austin campus are required to evacuate and assemble outside when a fire alarm is activated or an announcement is made. Please be aware of the following policies regarding evacuation:

- Familiarize yourself with all exit doors of the classroom and the building. Remember that the nearest exit door may not be the one you used when you entered the building.
- If you require assistance to evacuate, inform the professor in writing during the first week of class.
- In the event of an evacuation, follow the professor’s instructions.

· Do not re-enter a building unless you are given instructions by the Austin Fire Department, the UT Austin Police Department, or the Fire Prevention Services office.
