

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT AUSTIN
STEVE HICKS SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

Course number: SW 387C

Instructor's name: Sarah Swords

Unique number: 59955

Office number: 2.244

Semester: Fall 2019

Office phone: 512-471-7231

Meeting place/time: SW 2.140
Wednesdays 9:00 am – 10:00 am

E-mail: saswords@mail.utexas.edu
Office hours: Wednesdays 10:30-11:30 am

DIRECT PRACTICE FIELD IMMERSION ELECTIVE

I. Course Description

This concentration elective will allow students to further develop practice skills in preparation for final concentration field. Students will build on Foundation field experiences and begin to integrate concentration classroom learning. An emphasis will be placed on coordinated learning with concentration coursework. This course will draw from the specifics of the immersion experience for theory development related to practice and policy. Weekly experiential learning will occur in approved field settings and students will process their learning through journals and a weekly one and one half-hour seminar. Malpractice insurance through the field office is required. This course is offered on a credit/no credit basis.

Prerequisites: Successful completion of MSSW Foundation Field and/or successful completion of a BSW level field placement from an accredited social work program.

II. Course Objectives

By the end of the semester, the student will:

1. Complete a minimum of 125 hours (approximately 10 hours per week) in an approved concentration field setting.
2. Examine personal values and ethical issues relating to the provision of services.
3. Examine various treatment theories and approaches utilized with agency clientele to develop a fuller understanding and application of existing theories or the use of experience to inform developing theoretical models.
4. Apply skills in assessment of social and economic justice issues regarding treatment approaches with populations-at-risk.
5. Utilize supervision and consultation to increase professional competence and prepare for final concentration field.

III. Teaching Methods

Methods in the internship portion of this course will be individualized to each agency setting. In the seminar portion of the course, a variety of learning methods will be applied to achieve the course objectives, to be inclusive of various learning styles. Discussions, case presentations, in-class group activities, self-reflection, and readings may be used. In-class discussion will encourage students to engage in new ways of thinking that may be represented by the professor and classmates from diverse backgrounds.

IV. Required and Recommended Texts and Materials

There is no assigned reading for this course. Individualized readings, as assigned by agency based instructor, focused on specific issues and populations served in field immersion setting. Additional readings representing the perspectives of diverse scholars will be recommended by the instructor as relevant and appropriate.

V. Course Requirements

HOURS. Students must complete a minimum of 125 hours in the field immersion placement in addition to the one and one half-hour weekly seminar.

ATTENDANCE. Attendance at seminar and field immersion must be punctual and regular. If, due to an emergency, a student is unable to report to field, the appropriate agency personnel must be informed as early as possible. Also, the field instructor should be given the reason for the absence and the arrangements that have been made to cover the student's responsibilities. Finally, the seminar instructor must be fully informed about any irregularity in attendance to field practice.

TIME SHEETS. Each student is responsible for keeping time sheets. The time sheets are checked periodically by the field instructor and seminar instructor.

LEARNING CONTRACT. A written learning contract is to be developed by the student, approved by the field instructor, and submitted to the class instructor by the specified due date. This contract should incorporate relevant readings and other activities that address the student's personal learning goals. In general, this document should serve as a guide for development of field assignments and evaluation of a student's performance in field. The contract should encompass educational, professional, and personal growth goals. Periodic review and modification(s) of the contract is recommended. Copies of modified contracts are to be shared as quickly as possible with the class instructor.

JOURNAL. The weekly field journal should be uploaded to the class Canvas site by the beginning of each seminar class. The journal should be approximately 3 double-spaced pages and should capture significant experiences, interactions, and learning moments from the field immersion experience. Students should integrate theoretical concepts learned in concurrent concentration courses. In general, the journal should demonstrate growth and progress as a practitioner, according to semester objectives. Care should be taken to be explicit in making observations relevant to gender, economic, ethnic, and cultural differences.

AGENCY RECORDING. The field instructor(s) may assign additional agency recording. This is to be available to the seminar instructor at the time of any scheduled site visits. If the agency has minimal recording requirements, the class instructor and/or the field instructor may require additional written assignments which can address professional accountability requirements as well as educational needs.

EVALUATION. Ongoing feedback will be given in student journals, on assignments and during any field immersion visits.

GRADING. The grades of credit, no credit, or incomplete will be assigned by the seminar instructor. Credit reflects satisfactory and consistent performance in assignments, seminar participation and the field immersion experience.

MALPRACTICE INSURANCE. Students must be covered by an adequate malpractice insurance policy before beginning field immersion. The School of Social Work, through the Field Office, makes information available for students to purchase this policy prior to entering field.

VI. Class Policies

Students are responsible for awareness of and adherence to the content in the MSSW Graduate Guide to Field (<https://socialwork.utexas.edu/dl/files/academic-programs/field/mssw-guide-to-field.pdf>) concerning field policies.

INDIVIDUAL SUPERVISION WITH FIELD INSTRUCTOR. Performance as an adult, self-directed learner is the work pattern demanded in graduate field instruction. Therefore, individual supervision is provided on a weekly basis to facilitate practice and the attainment of the field objectives. It is the student's responsibility to be a punctual, assertive, well-prepared and accountable participant.

INTEGRATIVE SEMINAR. Attendance and participation in a weekly integrative seminar is required. Since the overall goal of this seminar is to apply knowledge, values, skills, and cognitive and affective processes to advanced practice, the success of the seminar depends on students' participation in class discussion. This includes listening to the opinions and concerns of others with openness, offering suggestions and ideas in a positive and respectful manner, and being willing to promote inclusion and cohesiveness in the learning environment. Information shared in class about agencies and clients is covered by the NASW Code of Ethics. Agencies are aware that information is shared in class for this purpose, however, discussions outside of class, with individuals outside of the seminar context is considered a breach of confidentiality. This is grounds for removal from field immersion.

VII. University Policies

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS HONOR CODE. The core values of The University of Texas at Austin are learning, discovery, freedom, leadership, individual opportunity, and responsibility. Each member of the university is expected to uphold these values through integrity, honesty, trust, fairness, and respect toward peers and community.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT AND CIVILITY IN THE CLASSROOM. The professor expects students to act as professionals in class. This means students should arrive on time for class, be prepared to participate in the class discussion, and show respect for one another's opinions. A course brings together a group of diverse individuals with various backgrounds. Students are influenced and shaped by such factors as ethnicity, gender, sex, physical abilities, religious and political beliefs, national origins, and sexual orientations, among others. We expect to learn from each other in an atmosphere of positive engagement and mutual respect. Social Work also deals with complex and controversial issues. These issues may be challenging and uncomfortable, and it would be impossible to offer a substantive classroom experience that did not include potentially difficult conversations relating to challenging issues. In this environment we will be exposed to diverse ideas and opinions, and sometimes we will not agree with the ideas expressed by others. Nevertheless, the professor requires that students engage one another with civility, respect, and professionalism.

UNANTICIPATED DISTRESS. Students may experience unexpected and/or distressing reactions to course readings, videos, conversations, and assignments. If so, students are encouraged to inform the professor. The professor can be responsive and supportive regarding students' participation in course assignments and activities, but students are responsible for communicating clearly what kind of support is desired. If counseling is needed, students may contact a service provider of their choosing, including the UT Counseling Center at 512-471-3515 or online at <https://cmhc.utexas.edu/>.

POLICY ON SOCIAL MEDIA AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION. Public social networks are not private. Even when open only to approved or invited members, users cannot be certain that privacy will exist among the general membership of sites. If social work students choose to participate in such forums, please assume that anything posted can be seen, read, and critiqued. What is said, posted, linked to, commented on, uploaded, subscribed to, etc., can be accessed and archived, posing potential harm to professional reputations and prospective careers.

Social work students who use social media (e.g. Facebook, Twitter, Instagram) and other forms of electronic communication (e.g. blogs) must be mindful of how their communication may be perceived by clients, colleagues, faculty, and others. Social work students are expected to make every effort to minimize material which could be considered inappropriate for a professional social worker in training. Because of this, social work students are advised to manage security settings at their most private levels and avoid posting information/photos or using any language that could jeopardize their professional image.

Students are asked to consider the amount of personal information posted on these sites and are obliged to block any client access to involvement in the students' social networks. Client material should not be referred to in any form of electronic media, including any information that might lead to the identification of a client or compromise client confidentiality in any way. Additionally, students must critically evaluate any material that is posted regarding community agencies and professional relationships, as certain material could violate the standards set by the School of Social Work, the Texas Code of Conduct for Social Workers, and/or the NASW Code of Ethics.

Social work students should consider that they will be representing professional social work practice as well as The University of Texas at Austin School of Social Work program while in the classroom, the university community, and the broader area communities.

POLICY ON SCHOLASTIC DISHONESTY. Students who violate University rules on scholastic dishonesty are subject to disciplinary penalties, including the possibility of failure in the course and/or dismissal from the University. Since such dishonesty harms the individual, all students, and the integrity of the University, policies on scholastic dishonesty will be strictly enforced. For further information, the student may refer to the Web Site of the Student Judicial Services, Office of the Dean of Students: <https://studentaffairs.utexas.edu/>.

USE OF COURSE MATERIALS. The materials used in this course, including, but not limited to exams, quizzes, and homework assignments, are copyright protected works. Any unauthorized duplication of the course materials is a violation of federal law and may result in disciplinary action being taken against the student. Additionally, the sharing of course materials without the specific, express approval of the professor may be a violation of the University's Student Honor Code and an act of academic dishonesty, which could result in further disciplinary action. This sharing includes, among other things, uploading class materials to websites for the purpose of distributing those materials to other current or future students.

DOCUMENTED DISABILITY STATEMENT. Any student who requires special accommodations must obtain a letter that documents the disability from the Services for Students with Disabilities area of the Division of Diversity and Community Engagement (471- 6259 voice or 471-4641 TTY for users who are deaf or hard of hearing). A student should present the letter to the professor at the beginning of the semester so that needed accommodations can be discussed and followed. The student should remind the professor of any testing accommodations no later than five business days before an exam. For more information, visit: <http://diversity.utexas.edu/disability/>.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS. By UT Austin policy, students must notify the professor of a pending absence at least fourteen days prior to the date of observance of a religious holy day. If the student must miss a class, examination, work assignment, or project in order to observe a religious holy day, the professor will give the student an opportunity to complete the missed work within a reasonable time after the absence.

TITLE IX REPORTING. In accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University of Texas at Austin is committed to maintaining a learning environment that is free from discriminatory conduct based on gender. Faculty, field instructors, staff, and/or teaching assistants in their supervisory roles are mandated reporters of incidents of sex discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual violence, stalking, interpersonal violence, or any other forms of sexual misconduct. Students who report such incidents will be informed of University resources. Incidents will be reported to the University's Title IX Coordinator and/or the Title IX Liaison for the SHSSW, Professor Tanya Voss. Students, faculty and staff may contact Professor Voss to report incidents or to obtain information. Further information, including student resources related to Title IX, may also be found at <http://socialwork.utexas.edu/dl/files/academic-programs/other/qrg-sexualharassment.pdf>.

CAMPUS CARRY POLICY. The University's policy on concealed fire arms may be found here: <https://campuscarry.utexas.edu>. You also may find this information by accessing the Quick Links menu on the School's website.

CLASSROOM CONFIDENTIALITY. Information shared in class about agencies, clients, and personal matters is considered confidential per the NASW Code of Ethics on educational supervision and is protected by regulations of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) as well. As such, sharing this information with individuals outside of the educational context is not permitted. Violations of confidentiality could result in actions taken according to the policies and procedure for review of academic performance located in sections 3.0, 3.1, and 3.2 of the Standards for Social Work Education.

USE OF E-MAIL FOR OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO STUDENTS. Email is recognized as an official mode of university correspondence; therefore, students are responsible for reading their email for university and course-related information and announcements. Students are responsible for keeping the university informed about a change of e-mail address. Students should check their e-mail regularly and frequently—daily, but at minimum twice a week—to stay current with university-related communications, some of which may be time-sensitive. Students can find UT Austin's policies and instructions for updating their e-mail address at <https://cio.utexas.edu/policies/university-electronic-mail-student-notification-policy>.

SAFETY. As part of professional social work education, students may have assignments that involve working in agency settings and/or the community. As such, these assignments may present some risks. Sound choices and caution may lower risks inherent to the profession. It is the student's responsibility to be aware of and adhere to policies and practices related to agency and/or community safety. Students should notify the professor regarding any safety concerns.

BEHAVIOR CONCERNS ADVICE LINE (BCAL). If students are worried about someone who is acting differently, they may use the Behavior Concerns Advice Line to discuss by phone their concerns about another individual's behavior. This service is provided through a partnership between the Office of the Dean of Students, the Counseling and Mental Health Center (CMHC), the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), and The University of Texas Police Department (UTPD). Call 512-232-5050 or visit <http://www.utexas.edu/safety/bcal>.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION POLICY. Occupants of buildings on the UT Austin campus are required to evacuate and assemble outside when a fire alarm is activated or an announcement is made. Please be aware of the following policies regarding evacuation:

- Familiarize yourself with all exit doors in the classroom and the building. Remember that the nearest exit door may not be the one you used when entering the building.
- If you require assistance to evacuate, inform the professor in writing during the first week of class.
- In the event of an evacuation, follow the professor's instructions.
- Do not re-enter a building unless you are given instructions by the Austin Fire Department, the UT Austin Police Department, or the Fire Prevention Services office.

VII. Course Schedule

The seminar will meet each Wednesday from 9:00 am to 10:00 am (unless otherwise noted).

Students will schedule their immersion hours with the field instructor to meet the needs of the agency and to fulfill the students' requirement of working 125 hours (approximately 10 hours per week) in field immersion.

VIII. Course Assignments

1. 125 hours of field immersion in the assigned agency to be completed by the last class day of the semester, December 4, 2019 (Field Visits will be completed prior to grades being due).
2. Weekly seminar attendance.
3. Weekly journals due on Canvas at the beginning of each seminar. The final journal entry should include an analysis of progress on your learning contract, a summary of your learning and growth, and thoughts regarding learning in your final placement.
4. Learning Contract should be uploaded to Canvas by September 18, 2019. The contract should be reviewed with and signed by your supervisor before submission.
5. Case Presentation and Peer Feedback on either November 13, November 20, or December 4, 2019. Students will choose the date of their presentation; three students will present each class.

Case Presentation Assignment Guidelines

The case presentation is designed to synthesize what you are learning in your coursework with what you are experiencing in your field immersion. Each student will have ten minutes to present a case and ten minutes to receive feedback from your peers.

Please include the following in your presentation:

Choose a client or group interaction for analysis.

Develop a summary assessment of the client/group including identifying information; client background and areas of diversity; pertinent social history; presenting problems and goals for change; systems of support/conflict; risk assessment; and strengths, resiliency, and resources.

Identify social work skills and knowledge utilized and how they did or did not contribute to best practices in this interaction.

Assess the effectiveness of the interaction including an analysis of your strengths and areas for growth. Address any ethical, cultural, or values issues that arose. Summarize supervisory feedback and discussion.

Conclude with any questions you have for the class regarding next steps with this client or group.

IX. Bibliography

MSSW Graduate Guide to Field: <https://socialwork.utexas.edu/dl/files/academic-programs/field/mssw-guide-to-field.pdf>

Individualized by agency field instructor and/or seminar instructor.